

Sports Online

► <http://www.sfgate.com>

SPORTING GRE

49ers, Young Get Big Break

Quarterback may have

By Gary Swan
Chronicle Staff Writer

49ers Seek S.
SEE PAGE 5

The bye week has come at a perfect time for the 49ers and quarterback Steve Young. If they had a game next Sunday, there's a good chance Young would not play.

last season — who pouncing and cos the problem has to take a slow, pa ery.

But the milted groin muscle on his up-

West Race

Financing in Place
For Giants' New Stadium
SEE PAGE B1, MAIN NEWS

In San Diego, Greg Vaughn's three-run homer in the eighth pushed the Padres over the Pirates and officially shoved the rest of the Giants' season into the back-ground. On the heels of their tedious 6-2 loss before an announced crowd of 10,307 at Candlestick Park, the Giants fell 1 1/2 games off the lead.

As it is, the worst the Padres (80-65) can finish is 80-82. The Giants have fallen to 59-83 with 20

"Where we are, you're going to be eliminated sooner or later," Baker said quietly. "But it doesn't alter the fact that we've still got to play ball. You've still got to play hard, the fans come out to watch you play. You've got to play for the fact of loving to play, no matter where you are in the standings."

"You've got to play the role of spoiler, to not make it easier on

GIANTS, Page D5 Col 3

By Nancy Gay
Chronicle Staff Writer

With the smack of another National League West bat 500 miles away, the Giants' run at the division title ended last night, just as they were handing the visiting St. Louis Cardinals an even bigger lead in the NL Central.

CARDINALS 6
GIANTS 2

titles
avra-e their dly
id
1
ss.
sa
sur-
ly.
ins

Cardinals
Howland
Adrian 16
E. Davis 15
R. White 14
L. Anderson
E. Davis 14
W. Moore 13
B. Boone 12
D. Jeter 11
C. Crisler 10
S. Lirio 9
C. Gooden 8
J. Lirio 7
J. Lirio 6
L. Harris 5
Total
L. Anderson
Buller 10
Curtis 10
Holloman
Holloman
K. McLeod