

COS 341, September 20, 1999

Handout Number 1

Information Sheet

Instructor Andrew C. Yao, Computer Science Building, Room 321, ext: 5182; Office hours: 3:00-5:00 pm Mondays, or by appointments.

Secretary Sandy Barbu, Computer Science Building, Room 323, ext: 4562.

Teaching Assistants

Jace Kohlmeier, Room 416, ext: 6304, office hours: 1:00-2:30 pm Tuesdays, jkohlmei@cs.princeton.edu.

Ding Liu, Room 313, ext: 6126, office hours: 3:30-5:00 pm Fridays, dingliu@cs.princeton.edu,.

Textbook (Required) Introductory Combinatorics, by Richard Brualdi, 3rd edition, North-Holland, 1999.

Homeworks Weekly homework sets will be assigned on Wednesdays, unless otherwise specified. Each is due in class one week after it is assigned.

Exams There will be an in-class midterm, and a take-home final exam.

Grades 50% homework, 20% midterm and 30% final.

Handouts All the regular handouts (such as homework assignments) are posted on the web page of the course. There might be occasions for which that is not feasible, in which case hardcopies are handed out in class.

e-mail My e-mail address is yao@cs.princeton.edu; be sure to use this address.

Collaboration Policy For exams, collaboration is not permitted. For homeworks, it is all right to discuss ideas among you, but you must write up your solutions by yourself alone.